E² CLASS APPLICATION

“Justice for Our Communities and Ourselves Through Love and Activism”

Spring 2011

The e2 class is a 5 credit course offered in the winter and spring quarter that provides a space for students to theorize and engage in activism in an academic environment. This seminar is a student-run and student focused, emphasizing progressive models of education and non-traditional classroom settings, where students are their own teachers. The class will focus on the importance and need for student power, student voice, and student movement, Students will be asked to engage in critical dialogue, thinking and action, collectively deconstructing the current educational structures and systems we a part of. Students will explore non-traditional forms of expression, learning and resistance such as art, music and theatre. Students will critically analyze the limitations of coalition building and deconstruct our differences as potential links to each other. We hope students will see connections amongst each other as student activists and create bridges for future collaboration.

SHOW US YOU!!

social biography letters

In a letter format please write why you want to take the e² class. In what ways do you feel you can offer support to your fellow classmates (i.e. in terms of mentorship, social support, perspectives, etc.). What do you need in terms of support as a student of the e2 class. Tell us WHO ARE YOU?

This is for us to get your perspective on yourself in a self-reflective way. We ask that you do it in a letter format so that you can have a person you want to talk to in mind so that you will feel comfortable expressing yourself in your writing.

The due date for the application is:

Friday March 11th by 5:30pm, Drop it off at the e2 office front desk.

The class will be held Wednesday's from 12am-3pm**
